If you have any questions about the installation or use of this product, consult a qualified mechanic.

Item # 15 in API Catalog

“Warranty is limited to the replacement of failed parts or refund of the purchase price, less a 20% restocking fee if in like new condition. We do not buy back used parts. Both are subject to the approval of API. This is an experimental fuel management product. Since we have no control over the application of the merchandise purchased, we disclaim any guarantee for performance or responsibility for injuries or damage. These parts are sold strictly for experimental aircraft, drag boats, racing and off highway use only. Not for use on certified aircraft. Tampering with parts or unit void any type of refund.”

We have supplied you with the best quality of craftsmanship and materials possible. If you are not sure about the components that you have received it is always better to contact us first before modifying them.
